REFLECTION

We are vulnerable people. We are dependent and needy and poor. We can wrap ourselves around with comforts, but we can't change the fact that we're adrift in a chaotic world. We cannot survive on our own. And that is terrifying, if we're willing to admit it.

There is an old legend that the mother pelican, in times of famine when she couldn't find food for her young, would feed them in a gruesome, albeit beautiful way. Unable to provide food from her surroundings, she would peck at her breast until her flesh tore, and then she would feed them with her blood. St.
Thomas Aquinas alludes to this old legend in his hymn to Jesus in the Eucharist, Adoro Te Devote, comparing this ultimate love of the pelican for her children with the love of Christ for his people.

Jesus does not leave his children to fend for themselves. He is not satisfied to let the crowd from today's Gospel go into town to find food. Rather, he wants to provide for their needs immediately, miraculously, telling his apostles, "You give them something to eat." God feeds his people. He provides for us abundantly. He feeds us with bread and wine. He feeds you today with his very self, with his Body and his Blood.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

A blessed life may be defined as consisting simply and solely in the possession of goodness and truth.
